Ex Secretary May.

From the Salem Statesman.

The OREGONIAN has heard that the late grand jury of this county found one or more indictments against ex-Secretary Samuel E. May, and that Governor Grover has sent a requisition for him, Mr. Foudray of Jackson county having been dispatched for that purpose.

It was generally reported here during Court term that the grand jury was considering this subject and that indictments were found against the late Secretary. It seems a little remarkable that they were not found before he left, or at least sooner than they have been, if the State officers have had the proof of his default as is now claimed. He had bondsmen and they are abundantly responsible for any deficiency in his accounts, yet we have not heard that suit has ever been commenced against them. We have no excuse to make for defalcation on the part of Mr. May, should such be proved against him, but we object to the present State administration saving the matter up in hopes of making electioneering capital out of it. It is a matter that concerns the people at large, Republicans as well as Democrats, and we trust sufficiently to the good faith of all parties to believe that they will not countenance any attempt by our party to shield a public officer from merited blame, or by the other to use any official misconduct or dishonesty as mere party capital.

What we need is honest administration of Government in all departments, State and National. The people as a mass are honest and they deserve to have honest servants. If the late Republican administration connived at or executed dishonest acts, let them be exposed and let the party be held responsible for them. If any Republican Legislature has ever passed acts in the interest of speculators and land grabbers to the public detriment, then hold the party responsible; and if any Republican Governor ever kept a ruffian in his pay to assault an independent journalist and shoot him if he couldn't cowhide him, and afterwards prostituted Courts to have his dirty villain go free, then let the party be held accountable for that.

We do not hesitate to assert that if General Palmer had been elected Governor and the rest of the Republican candidates had been elected, the world have been quite as speedy work made in relation to this same matter, and any defalcation secured to the State before this time. And we further say that should the ex-Secretary be really brought to trial he can be safely and equitably tried here in this strong Republican county, and the State need not ask for a "change of venue" to secure justice. This county knows no politics in criminal matters, late events to the contrary notwithstanding. We have confidence that the people of Oregon, both in relation to this reported matter of official defalcation as well as in relation to other matters, are capable of acting fairly, wisely and honestly in punishing crime without being influenced by the trickery of political demagogues.

The California and Oregon Railroad.

From the Yreka Journal we take this:

The railroad is now in running order to Red Bluff, which does away with any more river freighting to Northern California, unless the railroad charges become too extortionate. There are over four hundred men at work grading the road this side of Red Bluff, and stakes are set to Cottonwood in Shasta county, to which point the railroad company intends building this winter, as winter is the best time to build roads in that section, on account of the ground being soft and free from overflow. The company will determine this winter, upon a thorough examination of surveys made this summer, where they will cross the Siskiyou. Many think the route up Cottonwood is the easiest and cheapest to build on, but we suppose the company will choose the route that benefits them the most. The Oregon railroad company, owing to the flooded and swampy character of the ground in winter in the Umpqua Valley, will be unable to do much before next summer, though the Oregon company put things through when it was possible to do anything, and may beat the California company yet to the line, and locate the junction.

EDUCATION IN EUROPE AND AMERICA.—Hon. B. G. Northrup, Superintendent of Public Instruction in Connecticut, is now on a foreign mission, charged to prepare a report for his State on the various school systems in Europe. Some interesting statements regarding the progress of popular education in Great Britain and on the continent is furnished by him to the American Register, published at Paris:

The schoolhouses on the continent generally are inferior to those of the United States, many being very old, poorly lighted and ventilated, and often in Italy will no arrangements whatever for heating. The American are far superior to the European schools in the methods of teaching geography and arithmetic; but in the teaching of languages, history and drawing, the best schools of Switzerland and Germany rank higher than those of the United States. The culture of the expressive faculties is there made more prominent. The mastery of the mother tongue is the first aim. Language is held to be not only the medium of thought, but the chief agent in cultivating the memory and taste. The disciplinary influence of language is kept in view. To talk well is held to be a noble art. The daily school drills aim at this grand attainment. The faculty of language is there, as it should be everywhere, early developed. In Switzerland, besides the vernacular, the study of French or German is required, and is begun at a tender age. The classics are also commenced early, and great proficiency is the result. In the study of any new language the pen is over in hand, and there is constant practice in expressing ideas in that language. The proficiency of each pupil is measured by his ability to convey thought in the new tongue.

History is in the Swiss and German schools made a most attractive and prominent study. The best schools of Austria, Switzerland, France and Germany greatly excel in drawing. They understand both its practical bearing and its relation to general culture. Their skilled mechanics apply the art in drafting plans, forming decorative designs, and executing delicate work. The world pays substantial tribute to France and Switzerland for the exquisite taste displayed in the decorative arts, in their beautiful designs and chasings in gold and silver, their silks and ribbons, and their countless forms of unrivalled bijouterie. Drawing has been recently introduced into the best schools of America. But our manufacturers are still largely dependent on Europe for their best artisans. These and other shortcomings will no doubt soon be remedied by the influence of such missions as that in which Mr. Northrop is engaged.

"MAKE A NOTE OF THIS.—"If any one speaks ill of thee," says Epictetus, "consider whether he hath truth on his side, and if so, reform thyself, that his censures may not affect thee." When Alexander was told that the very boys laughed at his singing, "Ah," said he, "then I must learn how to sing better." Plato, being told that he had many enemies who spoke ill of him, said, "It is no matter: I shall live so that none will believe them." Hearing at another time that an intimate friend of his had spoken detractingly of him, he said, "I am sure he would not do it if he had not some reason for it." This is the surest as well as the noblest way of drawing the sting out of a reproach, and the true method of preparing a man for the great and only relief against the pains of calumny.

Archæological Discoveries on Vancouver's Island.

The Victoria Colonist contains the following:

The local reader cannot have failed to have noticed in different parts of the Island—and particularly in the vicinity of this city—heaps of stones and earth so arranged as to form mounds or cairns. Many of these heaps are to be seen on Beacon Hill near the summit, at different parts of Esquimalt Harbor, at Cadboro Bay, Beckley farm and several other parts. They have long been supposed to be the work of a race of men who passed away to make room for the red man, who in his turn is being improved off the face of the earth to afford the white man room to increase and multiply his species. Lately several of these mounds have been opened near Cadboro Bay by Mr. James Deans, who found first, a layer of earth, next, a pile of stones—some of them weighing a ton—laid with almost mathematical exactness so as to form a circle; third, another layer of earth, and beneath it a quantity of bones and dust, amidst which were found a number of teeth and jawbones in a good state of preservation. The jawbones are pronounced to be those of a human being, and the teeth those of a vegetable eating animal—being wide and flat on the top. Perhaps the Darwinian theory is about to receive new and startling confirmation from these researches.

Near Beckley farm, not far from Beacon Hill, are what are supposed to be the remains of an ancient village, with trenches cut, evidently for the purposes of defense. The same thing is seen near Clover Point. A few years ago these evidences were much more distinct than now; but the large stones that dot the summit and sides of Beacon Hill, some of which are surrounded with a circular thicket of scrub oak, were no doubt placed there by the lost race who built the cairns just opened at Cadboro Bay—a race who possessed this fair land centuries before the Deluge, and who buried their dead in caves and pits, instead of putting them away on shelves above the ground, as did the aboriginal who inhabited the island when the present white settlers came to it. The early inhabitants of the British Isles disposed of their dead in the same way. In the Eastern States there are numerous mounds, some of which have been opened and evidences of a primitive race found. If these interesting researches should be continued, some very astonishing developments may result.

Cruelty in the Navy.

Captain Semmes, of the United States Navy, is now on trial at the Brooklyn Navy Yard on charges of almost incredible cruelty to the men under his command. Referring to the time when he was in command of the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, it is said that the situation upon the vessel became so unbearable that while the vessel lay in the harbor of Rio Janeiro there were one hundred desertions. Guards rowed around the ship in the night time, armed with revolvers, and ordered to shoot any one attempting to leave the vessel. Men were punished for the most trivial offences by being hoisted into boats alongside the ship, tied hands and feet, and left exposed to the blazing sun until they were burned so that their skin peeled off in huge flakes. The grossest indignities were offered to the seamen of all grades, under the name of punishment. Sometimes the commander ordered a man crammed into a box three feet long and about eighteen inches deep, then heavy planks were hammered down upon the unfortunate victim, and in one case a sailor was kept thus crushed and almost dying for one hundred and twenty hours. Men were sometimes chained together by tens, so that they could hardly move, and put out on deck to endure the terrible fervor of tropical nights until their nervous systems gave way under the intolerable torture, and they were transformed into little less than maniacs. This fiend will be properly punished.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette has some odious things to say, in favor of what he chooses to call "Man's Rights." "I am," he says, "a bachelor, thirty-one years of age, in sound health, and in receipt of a salary of $1,500 per year, and, therefore, a good match for any woman, no matter whom she may be, yet I remain unmarried from principle, and will remain single until the laws are so altered as to make me master of my own home. I am the owner of real estate acquired by my own labor. I do not mean to allow any woman to control me in the disposal of that property, simply because she should happen to be my wife. She would have done nothing toward earning that property, and, therefore, have no moral right in its sale. Any law giving her a dower third is simply a fraud on me, the more so as the law does not give me any dower third in her property. And then the ceremony now-a-days, called marriage, does not give me a wife; it merely gives me a woman who can leave me when ever she pleases. I cannot keep her against her wishes. She may go back to her father or elsewhere, and I can't compel her to come back; but should I leave her for any reason she can have me arrested and compel me to support her. Such a thing is one-sided and unfair. A woman held by such a loose tie is not, in my opinion, a wife in the holy way a decent man has shrined in his thoughts. The laws have degraded her into a concubine."

AWFUL PANIC IN CHURCH.—The disastrous effects of a panic are strikingly exemplified in the terrible and fatal accident which recently occurred in the African Baptist Church at Louisville, Kentucky. Between six and seven hundred persons were gathered at the Sunday evening service. The sermon was concluded, and the congregation were about to unite in singing a familiar hymn, when a peculiar crashing, crackling sound was heard. Though the audience were startled, all might have been well had not some thoughtless person crying out that the church was falling, rushed for the door. The panic that followed was fearful. The narrow stairways were instantly crowded with struggling, shrieking, surging mass; the weak were trampled down by the strong; eager to escape from some unknown danger, the frenzied people fought their way to the door, or tore out the windows and jumped to the ground. In vain the pastor and a few others, who retained their presence of mind, sought to quell the tumult. When at length the frantic mass were without the building eleven dead bodies lay in and near the vestibule—nine women and two children, nearly all apparently suffocated. Several others were severely injured and over 75 more or less bruised.

SHE WOULDN'T MARRY A MECHANIC.—A young man commenced visiting a young lady and appeared to be well pleased. One evening he called when it was quite late, which led the young lady to inquire where he had been.

"I had to work to night."

"What! do you work for a living?" she inquired in astonishment.

"Certainly," replied the young man. "I am a mechanic."

"I dislike the name of a mechanic!" and she turned up her pretty nose.

That was the last time the young man visited that young lady. He is now a wealthy man, and has one of the best women in the country for a wife.

The lady who disliked the name of a mechanic is now the wife of a miserable fool, a regular vagrant, about grog shops, and the miserable girl is obliged to take in washing in order to support herself and children.

OREGON.

Benton county is the first county to pay in its State tax.

A man named William Sherwood, from Coos county, has been brought to the insane asylum.

Snow is six inches deep at Jefferson. A dry house at that place burned down on Tuesday. Loss, $100.

The following story comes from a correspondent at Jefferson: "Mr. C. and wife were divorced at the last term of the Circuit Court in Linn county. Not being satisfied with the decision they appealed to the County Court last week, which tribunal reversed the decision of the higher Court, and granted them a change of venue to Walla Walla (in Washington Territory) where they hope to get bitter satisfaction." This is one of the richest things out.

Alluding to the Herald's gabble about a "Tammany Ring" in this county, the Salem Statesman says: "Our Democratic fellow citizens are driven to their wits ends for something to agitate and make capital about. Their chances for getting the people to grant a change of administration and to trust them with power grow less and less every day, and the least we can expect of them—to use an expression more appropriate than refined—is to 'die kicking.'"

NEWS CONDENSATIONS.

Every Republican paper in Maine favors the renomination of Gen. Grant.

During the last two years no less a sum than $115,350 has been paid for dredging San Francisco Bay.

The first newspaper published in Chicago was the Chicago Democrat, issued by John Calhoun, November 26, 1833.

An elephant's tooth was found in a gravel pit in Louisville recently, and scientists say it must have been there 2,000 years at least.

Col. Peter Menard, of Tremont, Tazewell county, Ill., the oldest native born Illinoisan in the State, died a few days ago. He was born at Kaskaskia in 1798.

Both the Alvarado and Sacramento Beet Sugar factories are now in successful operation, and are producing an article of sugar that meets with ready sale, and is in all respects satisfactory.

The record books of Wayne county, Michigan, which were taken from Detroit by the British in 1812, have been recently returned from Canada. They extended over a period of forty-six years, from 1786 to 1812.

On the woman question a woman says, in a communication in the Des Moines Register: "You may look at this matter in whatever light you will, but simmer it down, and it is but a quarrel with the Almighty that we are not men."

The Central Pacific Railroad Company's steamers having raised their rates on fares and freights to the old figures, the opposition boats Enterprise and Chin du Wan are going on the route between Sacramento and San Francisco again.

It is stated in the Journal de l'Eclairage au Gaz, Paris, that petroleum can be converted into a paraffine oil, which will burn without liquifying, and may be preserved in a fluid state for any period of time. The process is not given, and is said to be a secret.

Omaha intelligence states that a suit is now in progress there between the Union Pacific Railroad and T. C. Durant, to compel the latter to deliver to the railroad company about a million dollars' worth of property deeded to him by individuals, in trust for the railroad company, in 1853 and 1854.

The Atlantic Monthly for the coming year will contain a new novel by Hawthorne, and articles from the pen of Dr. O. W. Holmes. Besides these two features, Lowell, Whittier, Longfellow and Bret Harte are regular contributors. With such a force the Atlantic should be the foremost literary magazine in the world.

Experiments with Steam Boilers.

A most interesting and important series of experiments on the strength of steam boilers is now in progress at the Government reservation at Staten Island. The New Jersey Railroad, last September, after the fearful accident of the Westfield, authorized Francis B. Stevens, of Hoboken, a man well known in the world of mechanics and invention, to spend ten thousand dollars in such experiments and tests of the strength and best methods of construction of steam boilers. They have nine boilers to try. Four or five of them are old boilers that have been in use. One was built in 1845 and was used till 1870, when it was tested. The certificate allowed thirty pounds of steam; and it was strained under a hydrostatic pressure of sixty pounds. Others have been built expressly for these tests. In them various forms of construction, different qualities of iron and methods of riveting and head-fastenings will be tried. One has its sides of Pennock iron, of ten grades, and its heads one of Pennock and the other of Abbot iron.

One is modeled after the Westfield boiler, of the same shape, has the same style of fastening and riveting, and the iron is of the same thickness. Then there are upright boilers, tubular and space. The steamboat boilers have all been tried, but the question is, how much margin will a boiler permit without being strained. The intention is to try these boilers with the safety valves fastened down or removed, so as to allow the steam gradually to increase until a rupture takes place. On the four steamboat boilers the intention is to ascertain and compare the differences

Uncurrent Patriotism.

The Roseburg Plaindealer calls Gen. Joseph Lane a "patriot and statesman." The Portland Bulletin makes the Plaindealer's encomium the basis of a laudatory article on Gen. Lane, in which it also calls him a "patriot and statesman." We take leave to dissent from the opinion of both our contemporaries. It is well enough to remember, as often as Gen. Lane's name is mentioned, that when in public life he was an advocate of secession, gave encouragement to rebellion, and did all that lay in his power (and his power at that time was great) to bring about a dissolution of the Union and precipitate a bloody civil war. On the 2d March, 1861, in the Senate of the United States, he attempted to maintain in a set speech that the Southern States had a moral and constitutional right to secede, and that it would be wicked and unconstitutional for the Government to defend itself, to attempt coercion, or to enforce its authority. We give a brief extract or two from that speech:

Mr. President, in the remarks which I made on the 16th December last, in reply to the Senator from Tennessee, I took the ground that a State might rightfully secede from the Union when she could no longer remain in it on equal footing with the other States; in other words when her continuance as a member of the confederacy involved the sacrifice of her constitutional rights, safety and honor. * * * Sir, if there is, as I contend, this right of secession, then, whenever a State exercises that right, this Government has no law; is that State to execute, nor has it any property in that State that can be protected by the power of this Government.

Having thus laid down the position that secession was a right which might be assumed by the States at any time, he proceeded to argue that each State was the sole judge for itself, of the sufficiency of the cause for secession:

I think, for the sake of consistency with all my past professions as a Democrat, I am bound to respect the declared will of sovereign States, which, for reasons satisfactory to themselves, have seceded from the Union and established a separate and independent government. Whatever causes may have impelled them to a separation from the other States, I am bound to respect the expression of their sovereign will; and I heartily reprobate the policy of attempting to thwart that will under the pretense of "punishing treason" and "enforcing the laws."

What followed came logically after this:

Let me beg the party who are soon to take charge of this Government to let the seceding States alone, and by no means attempt to collect revenue in their ports; that would result in a bloody, terrible war; but, on the contrary, acknowledge the independence of the Confederate States of America, and treat with them as an ally and friendly nation.

We do not think, nor do the American people think, that the man who uttered these sentiments in the Senate of the United States, who by this course gave the seceders confidence and encouraged them to persist in their causeless attempt to overturn the Government and destroy the Union; who by his instructions and example sent a son, who had been educated at the expense of the country, into the rebel army to fight against the country that had nurtured him;—we do not think nor do the American people think that such a man is either a "patriot" or "statesman." If they did, Gen. Lane would still be in public life; Jeff. Davis, or his successor, would be President of the Southern Confederacy; we should be citizens of a divided and distracted country, and our condition as a people would be quite as bad, perhaps worse, than that of unhappy, anarchical Mexico. Gen. Lane is one of that class of "patriots" whose best service to his country was rendered when, at the command of his indignant and outraged fellow-citizens, he quit his country's service.

Inexcusable Delay.

It cannot but be considered as remarkable and inexcusable that the present State officials, though aware for a whole year of May's embezzlement, should have taken no steps to bring him to justice and recover the money. That they have known of it for this length of time is perfectly certain, since they caused reports to be put in circulation to that effect, and informed the editors of their party papers of it, who have been hinting and asserting that proofs were in their hands which would come out in time, and which would show that May had robbed the State of large sums. But proceedings have been deferred and postponed, evidently for the purpose of making a sensation by the disclosures, in the approaching political contest. Nor was it intended to open the matter yet, but it would seem that the demands made by the OREGONIAN for action in the case have convinced the officials that they could not decently cause or allow further delay. At least three terms of Court have been held at Salem since the officials have known of May's delinquencies, but they have not until now laid before the grand jury the facts in their possession. And what is still more remarkable is that they have not even yet commenced civil suit against May and his sureties for recovery of the money. Their whole course in the matter shows that they are more desirous of so managing the case that they may be able to use it in a political campaign, than of bringing the delinquent person to punishment and getting back the money. The sureties are ready to pay as soon as judgment is obtained; yet no proceedings have been instituted against them. Does this indicate a desire to properly serve the State and guard its interests.

The "organ" reiterates its charge that the OREGONIAN has done wrong in talking "prematurely" about the May defalcation. Nearly every Democratic paper in the State has been talking about it for a year. The Herald says we "published the fact that Gov. Grover had sent Mr. Foudray after May 'before any other paper in the State had made the fact known.'" If this was a secret, why didn't Gov. Grover and his advisers keep it? It was current before we heard it, and we heard some time before we published it. It came to us through Democratic sources, and we have little doubt that Gov. Grover himself put it in circulation. If, as the Herald says, it was important to keep this fact secret until Foudray had time to catch the thief, why didn't the Governor and those who were managing the affair keep it secret? Will the "organ" please turn its indignation on them?

It is no excuse for May's defalcations to say that they are utterly insignificant when compared with the legalized robberies since perpetrated by the Democratic party of Oregon. The thirteen or fourteen thousand dollars which it has charged that May made away with, is, indeed, a paltry sum compared with the hundreds of thousands taken from the State and conferred on individuals by the legislation of the last session. But though May's theft was smaller, his guilt in a moral point of view is equally as great as that of those who have swindled the State out of much larger sums.

A Coalition that is Hopeless.

The Democratic fashions are continually changing. The New York World, a paper which sometime ago expressed its willingness to accept the second new departure, now gives notice to the disaffected Republicans who expect to lead the coalition, that the Democrats are to run their own party. Republicans will be taken in as partners, "but their control can only be in proportion to the active capital they bring into the concern." They are reminded how many votes the Democratic party has, and are asked to show how many Republican votes they can bring over. "But we have, as yet, no trustworthy data for estimating either their strength or the boldness, courage, and determination of their leaders. Until they are in a position to give us information on these points, we shall go too far if we do more than signify willingness to co-operate on honorable terms. The completion of the proposed betrothal must depend upon what resources they can show in arranging the marriage settlement. Meanwhile the Democratic party will act like a prudent father who favors the match, but waits until he can inspect the title-deeds." And so the World checks the enthusiasm of some of the minor journals of its party which have been going too fast and make rash advances. For the present, it says, the Democratic party must maintain its organization and discipline, and wait to see what dissatisfied Republicans have to offer. "We invite and expect co-operation; but it remains to be seen whether the dissatisfied Republicans will oppose General Grant as an organized phalanx, or come over to us as individuals in the course of the canvass. Until this great point is settled, the Democratic party can only profess its willingness, but make no committals. The Republican reformers will make a mistake if they understand the effusive declarations of the Democratic press in any other sense." It is evident from this that the World is not hopeful of any accession from the Republican ranks, and it is fearful that if the new movement be pushed too far it will disintegrate the party.

It is asserted by the Herald that the county is "giving to the Sheriff a gratuity of $1,500 and the Clerk another gratuity of $600 for doing what the law makes it their duty to do." This is simply untrue. The short way to answer such a statement is the best way.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Advices from Shanghai reports the Tientsin flood unabated. Other Chinese news unimportant.

The San Francisco police are still unable to discover the burglars who have been so active of late here. They have arrested a number of strangers on suspicion, but they have not succeeded in producing any evidence against them.

Private letters from Japan say the Embassy which will sail on the Great Republic, to arrive here about Jan. 18, consist of the highest officials, who ever composed an Embassy from the Oriental Empire to America or Europe. Its head will be Tsuskin, late Minister of Foreign Affairs, now Prime Minister of Japan, assisted by Kido, Chief of the Emperor's Privacy. These, with the Chief Minister of Public Works, Chief Minister of Finances, Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs compose the Embassy. They will be accompanied by eight secretaries, twenty-one officers of the second rank, and twenty-one young noblemen not charged with ministerial functions, but traveling for information. They go overland to Washington, and then after visiting New York and other cities to Europe, and continue on around the world. Minister De Long will accompany them to Washington, and Charles Wolcott Brooks, Japan Consul at San Francisco, has been ordered to accompany them around the world. The Embassy goes out on the order of the Japanese Parliament and the Mikado that the rude classes may see foreign civilization and not depend upon it for themselves; not be compelled to trust to the report of inferiors as before. There was a great contest between the different Embassies as to whether they should first visit America or Europe, and their first decision in favor of America is remarked as a great triumph for us.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—The steamship Great Republic arrived this morning from China and Japan, with a large cargo, mainly teas.

On the trip out on the 16th of November the steamer passed in sight of Seawa Island, thirty miles distant, and a volcano in full eruption.

Yokohama advices are as follows: American Minister DeLong returned from a trip overland through Japan, and will return to the United States by the next steamer to confer with the President and Congress on the revision of the treaties. The Mikado of Japan has sent another Embassy to Corea. Japan is discarding their ancient custom. Exports of tea from Japan for this season are 1,000,000 pounds in excess of last. The Japanese War Department has issued orders for Diamas to transfer all arms and munitions of war to Government; nearly the whole of Lower Hakodate with property valued at half a million dollars, destroyed by fire; the next steamer to confer with foreign Governments on a revision of the treaties, to be made in July next in accordance with the united demand for the Embassy. The Mikado is willing to open the interior with foreigners throughout the Empire, but the question must be joined in by all the foreign powers to have effect.

The ship Montgomery Castle, 165 days from Liverpool, with merchandise to John Parrott & Co., arrived here this morning.

It is rumored that the parties charged with piracy at Magdalena Bay, by parties connected directly or indirectly with the Lower California Company, will carry the war into Africa and prosecute certain parties for grossly libellous articles concerning them, republished by one of the morning papers.

It commenced raining heavily at six P. M. Wind fresh from the southeast; barometer very low and still falling.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

YREKA, Dec. 20.—It has been storming hard ever since Sunday evening. The storm south of this city have been unprecedented, the gales doing considerable damage. The stages are running from twelve to eighteen hours behind time. It is still raining but unusually warm.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 17.—Judge Morrison is still very low with but slight hopes for his recovery.

The shipment of this year's crop of oranges and lemons has fairly commenced. Two thousand boxes were delivered yesterday to be shipped to San Francisco.

It commenced raining here yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, with a prospect of a heavy storm.

OMAHA, Dec. 17.—Thomas Harris, Recorder of Sacramento District, was strangled to death to-day by the bursting of giant powder in Smith & Co.'s mine, near the old Rochester works.

EUREKA, Dec. 17.—At a late hour last night, William Sweeney shot at and wounded John Finnegan in the shoulder. The parties had not and had heard words in the early part of the evening. Sweeney was arrested. Finnegan was not dangerously wounded.

PETALUMA, Dec. 17.—It has rained hard since 5 o'clock this afternoon. The wind is in the southeast.

EMIGRANT GAP, Dec. 17.—Strong west wind with rain and hail.

COLFAX, Dec. 17, 6 P. M.—Wind in south and raining.

NEVADA CITY, Dec. 17.—Wind in the south, and it has been raining since 6 o'clock this evening.

STOCKTON, Dec. 17.—It commenced raining at 7 P. M. Wind southeast.

UTAH.

CORINNE, Dec. 17.—No trains have passed Laramie as yet.

Snow is drifting badly between Laramie and Cheyenne.

A telegram from Medicine Bow says forty or fifty Chinamen who were working on the train struck on account of the cold weather. They will probably be set on the side of the track and left to shift for themselves.

The weather continued extremely cold. Two inches of snow fell this morning.

Failure of many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco to cure a case of Rheumatism.—Triumph of the Unk Weed Remedy.

SAN JOSE, August 2, 1871.

DR. A. M. LOUPPE & CO.: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, have been sick for five years with Rheumatism, and have been treated for many ailments. My trouble has been weakness of the back and side, and wandering pains all over my body. I have been treated by many of the most eminent physicians of San Francisco, as well as of this city, but without any effect. At last I was induced to try your UNK WEED REMEDY, and the result was that after taking the contents of two bottles I found myself perfectly cured. To all afflicted with Rheumatism, I say TRY THE UNK WEED REMEDY, and you will be cured. Yours truly,

THURSDAY MORNING, DEC. 21, 1871.

CITY.

HILLSBORO ITEMS.—A correspondent writing from Hillsboro under date of Wednesday, December 20th, furnishes the following: For the last two days the weather has been intensely cold, the wind at times blowing a perfect hurricane, tearing down fences, and in one instance blowing a barn down, the property of Mr. Hart.

During the past week our town has presented a very lively appearance, a large number of farmers being in purchasing their winter supplies.

The railroad track is no completed to a point immediately opposite to the east line of Hillsboro. To-morrow the track will be laid to within three hundred yards south of the town. The right of a locomotive in these quarters excites a great interest, many never having seen the iron horse before. The railroad has given an impetus to everything. Business is better and there is considerable demand for town lots.

Yesterday the West Side stage was detained at Kennady's being unable to proceed, owing to the fact that several large trees had fallen across the road, rendering it impassible. The road supervisors of this district are either dead or have a happy faculty of not attending to the duties of their office. Come, gentlemen, be a little more active.

The Tualatin Navigation Company's steamer is tied up at Scholl's Bridge, the draw being too small for her to pass through. If something is not done, and that very soon, the chances are that we will have a first class law suit.

CHRISTMAS EVE BALL.—We learn that preparations are going on well, and that the prospects are excellent for a large party at Armory Hall tomorrow evening. The ball is to be given by Baker Post No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, for the benefit of the Post, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of the regalia and uniform of the Order. We have been shown the manuscript copy of the Programme, from which we learn that the exercises will open with a musical echo, the rendition of which will occupy about an hour and a half and then the dancing will begin—probably about half past nine o'clock. The best music to be had in the city has been engaged. The following are the committees who have the management in charge: General Committee—W. C. Hitchcock, J. B. Reynolds, Jos. Legrand, O. P. Crandall, C. E. DuBois, E. Ross, John E. Green. Honorary Committee—E. W. Ryan, Commander Baker Post; Capt. C. S. Mills, of the Washington Guard; Capt. Thos. Johnston of the Emmet Guard; J. M. Patterson, Commander Russell Post, Salem; C. E. DuBois; Capt. E. G. Ingalls, Kalama. Reception Committee—H. B. Oatman, J. B. Reynolds, Capt. E. Cahalin, Lt. A. Campbell. Floor Committee—C. P. Crandall, Jno. M. Hill, Ward S. Stevens and G. Rankin.

FIRE ALARM.—It must be apparent to all that this city is sadly in need of some system of fire alarm. Under the present arrangement when an alarm of fire is sounded there is nothing to indicate the locality of the fire, and as a consequence, the Department, when called out, is at a loss to know which way to move or in what direction its services are required. The result of this is when an alarm is struck we have one company running here, and another there; confusion reigns supreme. The Department is crippled and rendered for the time being useless. Take for example the alarm of fire a few nights ago. The roof of a building located on Front street, near Salmon, was on fire, and at one time threatened not only the destruction of the building but the adjoining property. In answer to the alarm the engine companies promptly turned out, but not knowing in what direction their services were needed, ran away from the fire rather than towards it; and had it not been for the energetic efforts of those on the spot, the fire would have doubtless done much damage. This all can be avoided by the adoption of some system of fire alarm. Our city authorities cannot longer afford to delay in this important matter.

TEMPERANCE FESTIVAL.—A festival and fair will be held at Good Templar's Hall, corner of Front and Alder streets, on Friday evening next, the 22d inst., at 7½ o'clock, the proceeds to be applied to the building of the new Good Templar's Hall in this city. The managers of the National Business and Commercial College have kindly placed at the disposal of the Committee for that evening, their telegraphic apparatus, whose wires will connect with those of the Western Union Telegraph Company. Christmas congratulations can thus be interchanged among friends without leaving the room, at a very trifling expense. It is the intention of the managers to make the occasion pleasant and agreeable to all who may attend. Presents for the Christmas tree—to be distributed on Monday evening, the 26th inst.—must be handed to the committee at the Hall, before 5 o'clock, P. M. of that day. Refreshments furnished at the Hall. Admission, 25 cents; children free.

OVERBOARD.—On Tuesday night between eleven and twelve o'clock a man while under the influence of liquor fell into the river from the foot of Taylor street. His movements had attracted the attention of a couple of gentlemen who were standing on the corner of the street conversing. Noticing that the man was drunk and reeling, that he might lose his footing and fall overboard, they followed him, but before they could reach him he was overboard, having, as it appeared to them, deliberately walked off the wharf. A small boat was procured and the drunk rescued from a watery grave. On reaching the shore he sobered up, and without as much as thanking his saviors moved off up the street at a rapid rate.

ILLUSTRATED.—A sensational account, (probably from that scrap book) published by a cotemporary, of the narrow escape of a young lady from being run over by a train of cars on the O. and C. railroad, and of the heroic conduct of the conductor, who, in order to allow the train to pass, rushed out upon the cow-catcher and by a superhuman effort pushed aside the animal that the lady was riding, thus enabling the train to pass on without doing any injury either to female or horse, is the subject of an illustration to one of the New York pictorials, the like of which has never, if ever been seen. The cut, like the article, is in the highest degree sensational and blood-curdling. Large oaks, etc.

HEAVY FINE.—In the Police Court yesterday morning, Judge Denny imposed a fine of $100 upon an individual who had been arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. In making the arrest, the accused resisted the officer and behaved in a most outrageous manner. It is to be hoped that the lesson will not be lost upon him, but that in the future he will behave himself in a more becoming and gentlemanly manner.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday afternoon a horse attached to a grocer's wagon, while standing on Third street, near Pine, became frightened and started at full speed down the first named street, scattering the contents of the wagon on every side. The animal was finally stopped and returned to its owner, but the groceries—well, they can be found imbedded in the snow for several blocks along Third street.

GENERAL AVERAGE.—The Board of Underwriters claim that as the Windward had crossed the bar and was at anchor, their risk had ceased, and that, therefore, they are in no way responsible for any portion of the loss sustained by cutting away the masts and rigging of the vessel. This is a nice point, and will doubtless occupy the attention of our Courts.

GOOD RESULT.—The recent cold snap has had the effect to materially reduce the number of hangers-on about the street corners. The street corner loafer can't stand cold weather. Thin-soled boots and snow are not agreeable companions.

DISCHARGED.—Dan Lowery, arrested a few days since on the charge of stealing a hat, was yesterday in the Police Court, discharged. The evidence showed that he came in possession of the hat honestly.

THEATRICAL.—It is the intention, we understand, in the event of the Oriflamme arriving in time, to open the Oro Fino Theater on Monday evening. A list of the company has already been published.

SUSPENDED.—Work on the Custom House has been suspended. As we gaze upon that unfinished structure, we involuntarily give utterance to the thought, "How long, oh! how long."

PRESENTATION.—H. J. McCormick, foreman of Willamette Hose Co., has been presented by the members of that Company with a magnificent silver trumpet.

THE SENATOR.—This boat will commence making regular trips to Oregon City to-day.

FARES.—The price of passage by boat to Salem is $2. To Corvallis, $3 50.

IN MEMORIAM.

In the Circuit Court, yesterday morning, Judge Page, from the committee appointed to draft resolutions expressive of regret at the loss of the late Cincinnati Hills, presented the following:

WHEREAS, In the dispensation of Providence our esteemed fellow-citizen and friend, Cincinnati Bills, has been removed by death from our midst; therefore,

Resolved, That in this sad event we recognize the loss of a faithful public servant, a useful citizen and a sincere friend—one who united dignity with honor in office, who presented in all the relations of life a worthy example, and whose death, in the prime of his usefulness, evokes in this community a profound and unusual sorrow.

Resolved, That his integrity and energy in the discharge of the responsible duties of his office and his uniform courtesy toward the members of the Bar secured our esteem and won our confidence, and that we now in sadness pay this last tribute of respect to the memory of a good man.

Resolved, That to the widow and children of the deceased we tender our sympathy in this their bereavement, and commend them to the care of Him who wounds but to heal.

The resolutions were ordered spread upon the records of the Court. Judge Upton, J. N. Rolph and W. W. Page made eloquent remarks upon the character and worth of the deceased.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 20, 1871.

Resolutions on the death of C. Bills, late Sheriff, were presented by Hon. W. W. Page, Chairman of the Committee of members of the Bar, and ordered spread on the journal of the Court.

J. P. Ward was designated as Editor.

Hurgren & Shindler vs M. O. Lowndale et al; suit to quiet title. Decree in favor of plaintiffs.

Reynolds & Gray vs M. O. Lowndale et al; suit to quiet title. Referred to George H. Durham.

J. H. Ritchey vs J. P. O. Lowndale; suit to quiet title. Decree in favor of plaintiff.

H. M. Smith vs J. P. O. Lowndale; suit to quiet title. Decree in favor of plaintiff.

Jacob Cline vs George W. Durand; action for rent. On trial.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—We are glad to note an improvement in the attendance last night at this place of amusement. The performance, judging from the applause and laughter, proved satisfactory to at least a majority of the audience. To those who desire to see a first class minstrel performance we would advise to attend. The programme has undergone a change for this evening.

THE RINK.—Carrie Moore will be the attraction at the Skating Rink this evening. Admission, 25 cents.

SPECIAL TERM.—A special term of the County Court will be held this afternoon at one o'clock for the purpose of filling the vacancy in the office of Sheriff, occasioned by the death of Sheriff Bills.

MODERATED.—The weather yesterday moderated, and, as a result the sidewalks and streets are in an impassible condition.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Go to H. W. Monastes' crockery store on First street, between Morrison and Yamhill, and see the large assortment of fancy goods for holiday presents, just received per steamer Ajax.

On Tuesday last there arrived in this city by the Oregon and California Railroad two men from Long Tom who had come all the way here to purchase suits of clothing from J. O'Neil & Co. They had been reading the OREGONIAN, and found that O'Neil & Co. were selling goods cheap, consequently they journeyed hitherward. O'Neil & Co. supplied them with the star shirt, under clothes, neck-ties and other articles, the parties being satisfied that O'Neil & Co. did the handsome thing with their customers. Go thou and do likewise, at O'Neil & Co.'s, 95 First street.

In the New York Herald we observe an advertisement to the effect that a whole Funeralicon be had for $25. Well, that is decidedly cheap, but think of selling suits of Clothing at $18. It is done every day at Kohn & Nichols's, 61 Front street, where they sell only well made cheap, but it is so in everything they offer to the public.

STYLES JUST RECEIVED.—Gilt Parlor Furniture! Easy Chairs in great variety; Bouquet Stands, Card Receivers, Wall Pockets, Finished in Gilt, Walnut, Ebony, Wax and Marquetry. Call and see the Woven Wire Mattress at HUBGREN & SHINDLER'S.

WORK of every description in the house finishing line will be done of short notice to the best of satisfaction.

PAUL RICHTER.

As S. L. Stone is closing out at cost his fancy goods, toys and willow ware, this is the best chance to buy cheap.

I say, mister, where is the Postoffice? Why, it is next door to S. L. Stone's cigar and tobacco store.

S. L. Stone is giving more toys and fancy goods for six bits than any house in town does for one dollar.

Everybody says S. L. Stone is selling the best bit and two bit cigars in the city.

Kris Kringle's headquarters is at S. L. Stone's, next door to the Postoffice.

MR. DAVID W. C. NEED,

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, DEC. 20, 1871.

Present—His Honor Mayor Wasserman, and Councilmen Bosser, Burton, Caywood, Combs, Congle, Hallock and Moffett.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

CITY ASSESSMENTS.

On motion of Mr. Hallock it was ordered that hereafter that all petitions for reduction of city assessments be referred to the Committee on Ways and Means without further action on the part of the Council.

PETITIONS.

From Labbe Bros. and others, remonstrating against the proposed extension of Stark street. Referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

A building permit was granted to Smith Bros.

REPORTS.

From the Committee on Streets and Public Property, stating that owing to the fact that the assessment rolls had not been returned in time, the election for ascertaining the views of the taxpayers as to the purchase of the Park blocks had been postponed. The committee recommended that the election be held on the 8th, 9th and 10th of January. Placed on file.

From the City Assessor, returning the assessment rolls.

CLAIMS.

The following claims were ordered paid: Dilg & Co., work on fire engines, $14 50; J. B. Congle, work on fire engine and repairing hose, $31 50; Herald Printing Co., advertising, $28 74; H. L. Pittock, advertising, $28 48; C. H. Myers, gas fitting and plumbing, $12; Northrop & Drew, street contractors, $43.

ORDINANCES INTRODUCED.

An ordinance authorizing the Judiciary Committee to enter into a contract for the printing and binding of the charter and ordinances. Read three times and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

That the Auditor give notice that the Council propose to improve South First from Harrison to Lincoln, by laying sidewalks and crosswalks. Adopted.

Adjourned.

AN UNPREJUDICED PHYSICIAN
INTERVIEWED.
Bold Opinions Truly Expressed.

POPULARITY IS NOT ALWAYS A proof of desert. Every newspaper man knows that. Many articles are engineered into temporary popularity that have no intrinsic merit whatever. It is an easy thing to make sweeping assertions and sow them broadcast in the columns of the public press. But there is a class of experienced and thoughtful minds not to be caught with chaff, like Captain Cuttle, they want "an opinion as is an opinion," in other words, the judgment of competent and disinterested authority, as a basis for their own.

Several of these cautious individuals having done us the honor to invite an expression of opinion in these columns on the properties of the much talked of Tonic known as PLANTATION BITTERS, we have taken the pains to obtain from a distinguished physician whose ability and integrity of purpose no one will venture to question, what may fairly be deemed a conclusive answer to the questions of our correspondents. Dr. Elias Kennedy Whitmarsh, as a surgeon, pathologist and chemist, has few superiors west of the Alleghanies, and the following conversation which occurred a few days ago between that gentleman and one of our staff, is offered, without comment, for the information of "whom it may concern:"

REPORTER.—Have you any objection to state your views in relation to a medicinal preparation which has obtained great celebrity in this country? The object is to ascertain whether the reputation is deserved or not.

DR. WHITMARSH.—If I know anything about the article, I'll tell you what I think of it. How is it named?

REPORTER.—PLANTATION BITTERS.

DR. WHITMARSH.—Well, it is a wholesome vegetable tonic.

REPORTER.—Anything else?

WHITMARSH.—Yes, it has a mild aperient property, and produces a salutary effect upon the liver when that organ is diseased.

REPORTER.—It contains alcohol I understand—Santa Croix Rum.

DR. WHITMARSH.—Of course it contains a diffusive stimulant. If it did not its medicinal ingredients would be comparatively inert. They are rendered operative by REPORTER.—Supposing that theory to be correct, a Santa Croix Rum a good article for that purpose?

DR. WHITMARSH.—The best I think. It is more nutritious and far less exciting than the spirits made from grapes or grain.

REPORTER.—But are stimulants really necessary at all in medical treatment?

DR. WHITMARSH.—Sir, if you had ever practiced medicine you would not ask the question. They are an essential portion of the materia medica. Every intelligent member of the profession knows that. The physician who denies it is either a hypocrite or a fool.

REPORTER.—Do you consider a medicated stimulant like the PLANTATION BITTERS preferable to simple alcohol? In other words, would the Santa Croix Rum be as useful without the other ingredients as with them?

DR. WHITMARSH.—Certainly not. Among those ingredients are Extract of Dandelion, one of the finest antibilious medicines I know of; Calisaya Bark, of all tonics the best; and Chamomile, no admirable stomachic. The remedial powers of these curatives is increased probably tenfold by the nutritive stimulant with which they are incorporated.

REPORTER.—You seem to have a high opinion of the Bitters.

DR. WHITMARSH.—I simply state facts, sir. You must draw your own conclusions.

REPORTER.—May I ask if you ever prescribed PLANTATION BITTERS for your patients?

DR. WHITMARSH.—I do, frequently. All that I have said to you is founded on my own experience. I never make positive statements on unsubstantial grounds.

REPORTER.—I am sure of that. Excuse me for having trespassed so long on your valuable time. Good evening.

We presume the correspondents who have addressed us on the subject of PLANTATION BITTERS, will consider their questions satisfactorily answered by the remarks of Dr. Whitmarsh.

NEW YORK
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY!
PURELY MUTUAL!

ASSETS $17,000,000!
ISSUED 9,025 POLICIES IN 1870.
Insuring Over $27,000,000!

WM. H. BEERS, Vice President and Actuary. MORRIS FRANKLIN, President.

AMONG THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY are:—

1st. PURE MUTUALITY, so that the entire surplus earnings over the actual cost of insurance is returned to the policy holders who are the only members.

2d. AGE, having been organized in 1845. It has the benefit of the experience of a century, and members are thus guaranteed from all doubtful experiment in the method of conducting its business.

3d. STABILITY AND PERPETUITY shown by the accumulation of a capital of Seventeen Millions of Dollars, after paying all losses promptly, and returning large dividends to its members. It has now an income of over Seven Millions of Dollars, and the interest on its investments, with premium on gold, &c., has been sufficient during the past two years to pay accruing losses.

4th. NON-FORFEITURE OF POLICIES. It originated the system of non-forfeiture of policies, and to it the public are indebted for a feature so favorable to the insured.

5th. SUICIDE does not cause a forfeiture of the policy, that being considered an evidence of insanity, and insanity the result of disease.

6th. DIVIDENDS. Its dividends are declared annually, and are available immediately as cash in payment of premiums. Many companies declare their premiums annually, but do not pay them till several years thereafter; others defer their declarations for two, three or four years from the time the policy commences. In this Company a party always has a dividend which can be used in the payment of the second and all subsequent annual premiums.

7th. ITS DIVIDEND SYSTEM is the "Contribution Plan," by which each member is charged with the exact cost of his insurance, and receives back his surplus payments. These dividends can remain with the Company, participating in its earnings, and be used at any subsequent period in the payment of premiums.

8th. LIBERALITY IN SETTLEMENT OF LOSSES. Experience has shown that cases arise where policies, although EQUITABLY claims, are not LEGALLY so. The records of this Company bear many acknowledgements from widows and relatives of deceased members of its liberality and fairness in settlement of all such cases. There being no stockholders in the Company to share its profits, interests adverse to policyholders cannot possibly arise, the Trustees simply occupying the position of arbitrators between the members, with no inducement to take from one and give to another.

THE SECRET OF MR. STEWART'S MERCANTILE SUCCESS.

[From Lippincott's for December.]

Probably the most striking instance of adherence to a few rigid rules is afforded by the man who is conceded to lead the mercantile world of this continent. Men envy his success who might have stood even with him in the race had they but inflexibly held to similar rules.

First and foremost in the stand which Mr. Stewart took, was the rule to permit no misrepresentation of goods. Purchasers were not slow to find out that in his establishment there need be no fear of imposition. Whether they were perfectly acquainted with the nature of the goods which they wished to purchase, or entirely ignorant on the point, they were sure of having the truth told. Mr. Stewart had it thoroughly understood by his clerks that they must tell the truth; and had the injunction so conspicuously placed that his employees were perpetually reminded of the great rule of the establishment. If a clerk was discovered in an overstatement or a falsehood, he was instantly dismissed. The natural consequence of this course was the rigid self-advertising power of his business. When men and women say, "Go or send there, for you are sure to get just what the article is represented to be," then friends and neighbors are not slow in availing themselves of such advantage.

The rigid observance of the "one price system," was a rule necessarily co-operative with the first. Dealers confess that it is exceedingly difficult to maintain this rule, and where a large proportion of business is transacted it is well nigh impossible; but when the rule is, "Pay on delivery," it can be maintained.

Comfort is brought to the household of every customer when he feels confident that he can send a child or a servant to make a purchase, and he will be sure of not only getting the article he wants, but obtaining it on exactly the same terms as if he were to go himself. It is a great thing for a merchant to discover that the money of a poor man is as good as the money of the rich—the cash of the stranger as good as the cash of the acquaintance.

In Mr. Stewart's vast establishment the clerks have no option whatever in the regulation in prices; this, they know, can never be taken out of the hands of the employer.

Nine-tenths of the terrors of shopping take their flight in view of these rules, and husbands can pluck up courage to go with their wives when they understand there is to be no badgering and jowing.

There is still another rule with Mr. Stewart which has immediate relation to the comfort and advantage of the customer, and that is his emphatic prohibition of any importunity to purchasers. Who is there, having had any experience of shopping in a city, that does not feel a kind of terror of a certain class of stores? He retains a kind of vivid impression of his helpless bewilderment amidst a babel of recommendations, until, at last, in sheer confusion, or from the desire to escape, he purchased an article he did not want, and went out of the shop with an inward resolution never to enter it again. But here you may gaze upon millions of dollars' worth of goods, and no one will interrupt your meditations or admiration. Among the highest production of the cunning skill of man you may make your choice without fear of the least importuning or coddling importunity.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Dec. 20, 1871.

Gold in New York, 102¾.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 96c buying, and 97c selling.

The bark H. W. Almy will commence receiving cargo to-morrow.

The bark Wellfleet, chartered to load Wheat for San Francisco by Messrs. Hewett, Flowerdew & Co., owing to the decline in the San Francisco Wheat market will have cargo composed nearly entirely of Flour.

The ship Windward, was anchored at Sand Island, 15 miles below Astoria, when the storm caught her, causing her to drag her anchor, and to save the vessel from being driven ashore she had to be dismasted. The anchorage is Astoria is good.

The bark Harrington crossed the Bar on Sunday. She brings a full cargo of Railroad Iron from Newport for the Oregon and California Railroad. Both she and the Alden Besse will be up by Tuesday of next week. Both vessels are disengaged, but will probably be chartered to load Wheat for Cork.

Late advices from the East state that the Cuba Sugar crop, though promising to be an average one, is likely to come to market late. The yield of Porto Rico is expected to fall 10,000 or 12,000 tons below that of last year, owing to the severe drouth there. The Louisiana crop, which was recently hoped would yield 200,000 hogsheads, will not go over 125,000 hogsheads. The Beet Root Sugar crop, which was estimated would yield 1,000,000 tons, will not go above 900,000 tons, it is that. Thus from these and other causes the world's supply the new falls about 195,000 tons. What the manufacturers will do for the increased consumption which has already given the Imperial Refineries of London a handsome dividend, remains to be seen. Coupling the above facts together, which are well known East and in Europe, is the cause of the last advances in New York of 10 cts. per cwt., and in Amsterdam of 6 per cent. at the periodical sales of the Maatschappy held there Nov. 22d, 1871. These advances will probably result in higher rates for raw.

Late news from England states that there is an over-production of Cotton Goods in Lancashire, with an over-supply now in the ports. From the Circular of Messrs. Leslie & Hudson, dated Manchester, Nov. 10th, we learn that the tone of commercial advices from nearly all the foreign markets has continued to be discouraging to shippers of Cotton fabrics, which, with the receipts at the Atlantic ports of Cotton that tended to shake the confidence previously felt in the reports of "short crops" in the United States, together with the high rate of discount still maintained by the Bank of England, notwithstanding lower rates ruling in the open market, causes spinners to regret the precipitancy of their operations in the Cotton market. The Circular cites instances to show that the manufacturers of Cotton Cloth have found it necessary to materially shorten their hours of labor.

The Mark Lane Express of Nov. 13th reports the English Grain market as follows:

We have had another fine week for field work and autumnal sowing, though the nights have been sharp and frosty. This will prevent the early wheat from getting winter-proud, and check the superabundance of vernation, to which the 1871 harvest is more than usually liable. The condition of samples has already improved, so that the fortnight to November has revealed October in its influence; but the frosts which we have had here have been much more intense in the Northern districts. Petersburg is already closed, and some barges stopped in the ice at Cronstadt; while from Konigsberg there are orders out to bind sailers to shipment the inside of this week. Yet with frost now looking us in the face, very little wheat comes forward, and on a large scale that the limited show of badly conditioned English samples has had no strengthening influence upon prices; but should it seem likely that there will be any difficulty in the Baltic, the advance, and so-to-speak, must be really in urgent need. But the idea pervades that scarcely a week of the time has been passed over. Hungary has scarcely a sack to offer, and Galicia and Russia, whilst her prices have become a check upon exports, although her own millers have so little confidence in extreme rates that at Pesth they have for the last two months been retarded to go on with only a week's stock in hand. Danzig, Königsberg, Stettin and Berlin keep up former values, as do Holland and Belgium. Against anticipated deficiencies it is satisfactory to find that Canada, this season, has grown an extra supply of winter wheat, which has tested out well, and also the spring corn with the exception of spring wheat, which will be only about an average. Against this, however, accounts from Russia are bad, the wheat having suffered materially by rain in harvest, as not to be available for exports, as regards Wallachia. On the other hand, Moldavia has plenty of red and Ghirka wheat, which will be serviceable. We may, perhaps, as we have stated during the late mild weather, a hard winter, and in that case a gradual advance in prices as increased deliveries take place in granary. But monetary matters are not sound enough for free speculation, and only a clear case of absolute necessity seems likely to raise markets from their present dullness.

In THE OREGONIAN of Dec. 17th we called the attention of the Owners or Directors of the Oswego Iron Company to the fact that a more favorable time could not be chosen in which to resume smelting. Since then we have been placed in possession of the following facts, and from a source that implicit credence can be placed in them. The following is an analysis of the specular iron Ore, made April 8, 1865, by Messrs. Kellogg, Howston & Co., of San Francisco:

Sesqui Oxide of Iron	77.60 per cent.
Moisture	11.16 "
Insoluble Silica	11.08 "
Sulphur and Phosphorus	10 "
	100.00

57.07 per cent. Metallic Iron.

During the short time the present company had the furnace in blast they turned out 3,000 tons of Charcoal Pig from ores that yielded about 42 per cent. of Iron. The Iron made proved to be of the best quality. A portion of the last shipment to San Francisco of Pig Iron was run into car wheels for the Oregon and California Railroad Company. A quantity of the Iron was tested at the San Francisco Rolling Mills, from 10 tons sent there for that purpose, which proved beyond question the superior character of the Iron. Another thing was practically demonstrated by the company while in operation, and that was that any kind of castings can be run direct from the stock, as some very fine stoves, as well as machinery castings, were made as a test. The supply of Iron ore is inexhaustible and can be obtained in any quantity desired at from one to two and a half miles from the stack, situated on the Willamette river, from which point vessels carrying 700 tons have loaded. There appears to be some secrecy connected with the Oswego Iron Company's present contemplating operations. All with whom we have conversed admit that the ore can be got out, smelted and the Pig Iron manufactured from it and put aboard vessels at $20 per ton, and it can or ought to be done for less. They also admit the inexhaustible supply of ore and also that of wood from which the charcoal to smelt the ore is made. The Oregon Iron Works of this city have been casting Stoves, which in quality and excellence for general use, will compare favorably with the best cast in the Eastern States, and they intend making this branch of their business a specialty. If the present company or some other company would take hold of the Iron Mines and erect furnaces, so as to smelt the ore on an extensive scale, then would center in our midst all the different branches of industry for converting Iron into all the different form in which it is used or manufactured.

The higher freight tariff on the Eastern railroads running from New York to Cleveland, Cincinnati, Louisville, Chicago, Milwaukie and Detroit went into effect Monday, Nov. 27th. The new tariff from New York to Chicago has been adjusted as follows: First Class, $3; Second Class, 90c; Third Class, 70c; Fourth Class, 55c; Special, 45c. This is a good move as the rates heretofore charged were ruinous to the railroads and were of such a character as to completely unsettle prices in many articles by what is termed "underhand charges." The effect of their new tariff, will be to still further advance prices of merchandise bought in the New York market for the San Francisco and this market. But the result will in the end be of advantage to the general trade by not allowing one merchant importing goods at less than another, owing to obtaining freights for less on an opposing line, which will admit of him selling under to prices on such goods imported.

Produce Market.

WHEAT—The arrival in the river of the barks Alden Besse and Harrington will cause the bringing forward of 2,100 long tons with which to load them. This amount and more too is secured, so that their arrival will not impart any tone to the market. Shippers are offering $2 15@2 20 in cental, sacked.

FLOUR—The rapidity with which shipments are being made to San Francisco will prevent large stocks accumulating here, but will cause the market there, without a good export demand, to drop. The bark Wellfleet's cargo will be composed almost entirely of Flour. We quote extra of standard brands at $5 75@6 00; country $5 25@5 50; superfine and outside brands, $5@5 50.

POULTRY—Our quotations for Hens and Roosters yesterday was not what dealers bought at, but what they retailed for. Dealers are paying to-day from $2 50 to $2 75 a doz. The other quotations were correct.

WOOL—The New York Commercial Bulletin of Nov. 28th says: There is considerable excitement in the market over the large transactions in foreign wools which have cleared the market in first hands of nearly all foreign styles. The greater part of this wool has gone into the hands of dealers, and prices are a shade firmer. It is feared that the firmness and advancing tone will have the effect of reducing the consumptive demand, and some dealers even look for the stoppage of enough machinery to break prices. And the Boston Advertiser of Nov. 27th remarks as follows: There has been considerable inquiry from manufacturers the past week, but they have been unable to find any staple in the market that could be purchased at the price they are willing to pay, and as trade has been limited to small lots that were required for immediate use, and the aggregate of sales is light. Holders generally are firm in their views, and anything offered below current rates is speedily taken by dealers.
